1. Introduction

Eurobank Cyprus Ltd (the “Bank”) has established a Remuneration Policy that is applicable to all Bank employees and covers their total remuneration. The Remuneration Policy forms an integral part of the Bank’s corporate governance practice and is developed in accordance with its operational model, business strategy, objectives, long-term interests, and incorporates measures to avoid conflict of interest.

Also, the Remuneration Policy promotes sound and effective risk management and is consistent with the objectives of the Bank’s business and risk strategy, corporate culture and values, long term interests of the Bank and the measures used to avoid conflicts of interest and should not encourage excessive risk-taking on behalf of the Bank. Changes of such objectives and measures are taken into account when updating the Remuneration Policy.

Accordingly, the operating standards and mechanisms which have been adopted ensure that the levels of remuneration are directly linked to results and desired behaviours.

The Remuneration Policy has been drafted and is being implemented in accordance with the Central Bank of Cyprus Directive to Credit Institutions on Governance and Management Arrangements in Credit Institutions ('CBC Directive') and the EBA Guidelines on sound Remuneration Policies under Articles 74(3) and 75(2) of Directive 2013/36/EU and disclosures under Article 450 of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013, as well as other elements of the pertinent regulatory framework.

The current Remuneration Policy supersedes, consolidates and replaces any other remuneration policy. There shall not be any exceptions to the Policy. Any legacy contracts should be aligned with the current Policy upon their renegotiation / renewal.

2. Implementation at Group Level

The basic principles and requirements of the current Remuneration Policy are aligned with the Eurobank S.A. ("Eurobank") Remuneration Policy in order to promote consistent application on a consolidated basis throughout the Eurobank Group (the "Group"), taking also into consideration any further obligation applied to the Bank.

The non-executive members of Eurobank's Board of Directors ("BoD") monitor the implementation of the Remuneration Policy at Group level.

3. Remuneration Policy Basic Principles

The Bank has established a competitive remuneration framework in order to attract, engage and retain its employees. Its basic principles are to:

- Safeguard that remuneration is sufficient to retain and attract executives with appropriate skill and experience.
- Monitor that internal equity between all Units is applied.
- Avoid excessive risk taking.
- Link remuneration with long-term performance.

The continuous monitoring of market trends and best practices in domestic and global level ensures a competitive Remuneration Policy that is governed by transparency and internal equity.

Moreover, the Bank has adopted a remuneration framework the main objective of which is to provide a unified remuneration management approach within the Group and a common framework taking into consideration the need for flexibility in the decision making process and the diverse operational models of the all units.

The Bank's remuneration framework is based on a two dimensional grading structure for each position:

- Job Family, depending on the nature of business (for example IT, Finance).
- Band which is linked to position requirements, range of responsibilities and professional experience.

The Bank's Band structure is set using a specific methodology, which evaluates each position based on 3 parameters:

- Know How
- Problem Solving
- Accountability

4. Remuneration Policy Adoption, Overview of Implementation and Revision

The non-executive members of the Bank's BoD approve and periodically review the Remuneration Policy and are responsible for overseeing its implementation.

The Remuneration Committee assists the non-executive members of the Bank's BoD regarding the drafting, revision and implementation of the Remuneration Policy and makes relevant recommendations.

The Remuneration Committee is established in such a way as to be able to offer specialised and independent advice regarding the Remuneration Policy and its implementation and the incentives created for managing risk, capital and liquidity.

The Remuneration Committee's objective and key responsibilities are determined by its Terms of Reference.

The drafting of the Remuneration Policy has taken into account the input provided by all competent control functions, Risk Management Unit, Compliance Division, Internal Audit Division, Human Resources Department, and Legal Services Division.

The implementation of the Remuneration Policy is subject to annual internal audit review from the Group Internal Audit Unit. Internal Audit's findings and proposals for potential revision of the Remuneration Policy are reported to the Remuneration Committee.

The Remuneration Policy is accessible to all employees through the Bank's intranet site.

5.2 Identification Process of the Employees with Material Impact on the Bank's Risk Profile

The identification process of the identified employees is based on the aforementioned qualitative and quantitative criteria as set out in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) No 604/2014 and, where needed, additional criteria have been set by the Bank that reflect the levels of risk of different activities within the Bank and the impact of employees on the Bank's risk profile.

Employees that fall or are likely to fall under the criteria in Article 3 for a period of at least three months in a financial year are treated as identified employees.

The identification process of the identified employees is performed on an annual basis.

More specifically, the identification process is as follows:

- Group Human Resources General Division ("Group HR") finalizes the list of key assumptions to be used in the identification process of the identified employees.
- Group HR sends the list of assumptions to the Bank's HR Department (HR).
- HR with the assistance of the relevant internal control functions (i.e. Legal, Compliance, Risk and Audit) validates the list of assumptions and verifies whether they are in line with applicable regulations or whether there must be some modifications.
- HR uses the final list of assumptions to proceed with the identification of identified employees. If during this process HR identifies the need to deviate from the initial list of assumptions at individual level, then they should discuss these deviations with the control functions, Risk and Compliance, and justify each deviation.
- HR submits the list of assumptions together with the list of identified employees to Group HR for review and approval.
- HR submits the list of assumptions for subsequent review and approval to Remuneration Committee (RemCo). Any deviations should be properly documented and provided to RemCo.
- Following RemCo approval, the assumptions and the list of identified employees together with the respective local approval is sent to Group HR.
- Group HR consolidates all such data from all Subsidiaries in order to obtain the final approvals at Group Remuneration Committee level.

6. Categories of Remuneration

Remuneration plays a significant role in attracting and retaining talent whose contribution in the Bank's results is deemed critical. Remuneration mechanisms incorporate principles that take into account employees' skills and performance while supporting at the same time long-term business objectives.

The Bank has developed a remuneration framework that is based on total remuneration ranges that differ among hierarchical levels and nature of business. Total remuneration ranges are reviewed annually taking into consideration market trends and current legal requirements. To this end, data from Compensation and Benefits Surveys, provided from external consultants, is used as benchmark.

It should be noted that employees engaged in internal control functions are independent from the business units they oversee and have appropriate authority, and are remunerated in accordance with the achievement of the objectives linked to their functions, independent of the performance of the business areas they control.

The remuneration of the employees in the independent control functions is predominantly fixed, to reflect the nature of their responsibilities. The variable remuneration of control functions, i.e. Risk Management Unit, Compliance Division, Internal Audit Division and Information Security Division, is not based on the financial performance of the Units they monitor. On the other hand, the variable remuneration is based on simple and clear criteria formed on the basis of control objectives and to some extent on the performance of the Bank as a whole.

Employees' total remuneration consists of fixed and variable components.

6.1 Fixed Remuneration General Principles

Fixed remuneration reflects the educational level, experience, accountability, position evaluation in comparison with peers, and the position's functional requirements. In addition, fixed remuneration does not provide incentives for risk assumption.

Individual increase proposals are based on market data and employee performance.

6.2 Separation Agreement Schemes

The Bank may provide separation agreement schemes for employees taking into consideration current legislation.

A minimum and maximum amount as well as other specific terms is each time determined for each Separation Agreement Scheme applied to employees.

6.3 Variable Remuneration General Principles

The Bank may provide variable remuneration in order to reward employee performance in alignment with unit and / or Bank performance taking into consideration the general principles set below.

The amount of variable remuneration awarded appropriately reflects to changes of the performance of the employees, the business unit and the Bank overall. In such variable remuneration schemes, the Bank specifies how the variable remuneration reacts to performance changes and the performance levels. This also includes performance levels where variable remuneration decreases down to zero.

As a result, it is upon Bank's discretion to award variable remuneration to employees as long as financial sustainability is maintained. The Bank has the right to partly or fully revoke the distribution of variable remuneration to its employees.

The total variable remuneration pool, as well as, the distribution parameters used for its allocation among different business units, should be determined after taking into consideration the following parameters:

- Eurobank's, the Bank's and business units' profitability.
- The cost of tied-up capital which is associated to risks undertaken (credit risk, market risk, operational risk) spread over a period of time, and is calculated based on the existing regulatory framework.
- Key developments in terms of credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk which further adjust the Bank's total variable remuneration pool.
- Additional criteria for measuring the effectiveness and efficiency of employees which include qualitative factors (qualifications, skills, compliance with Bank's policies contribution to the unit's performance, and personal competencies such as continuous improvement, customer orientation, team spirit, change leadership and people management) as well as factors related to the management of risks undertaken.

The variable remuneration pool allocated to each business unit, should be further adjusted through additional unit specific risk parameters (such as provisions from non-performing exposure, Value at Risk, credit, market & liquidity risk, losses incurred by fraud, etc.) thus stressing the importance of the prudent management of such risks.

In case that the Bank grants variable remuneration to its employees the appropriate risk alignment process should be followed as per the respective EBA's "Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under Articles 74(3) and 75(2) of Directive 2013/36/EU and disclosures under Article 450 of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013". The Bank reserves the right to apply malus or clawback arrangements to the variable remuneration awarded to employees.

In cases where variable remuneration is awarded to identified employees according to the EU Regulation 604/2014 additional requirements are applied to the variable remuneration amounts (as described in Section "Variable Remuneration for Identified Employees").

6.4 Other Variable Remuneration Components

6.4.1 Guaranteed Variable Remuneration

The Bank may provide guaranteed variable remuneration which should be exceptional, occur only when hiring new staff and where the Bank has a sound and strong capital base and is limited to the first year of employment.

The amount of guaranteed variable remuneration may not be included in the calculation of the ratio between the fixed and variable components of the total remuneration (as described in Section “Ratio Between Fixed and Variable Remuneration”) for the first performance period, where the guaranteed variable remuneration is awarded when hiring new staff before the first performance period starts.

As part of the arrangements guaranteeing this part of variable remuneration, the Bank may not apply the requirements on malus and clawback arrangements to guaranteed variable remuneration. In addition, the Bank may pay out the full amount in non-deferred cash.

6.4.2 Incentive Schemes

The Bank may provide incentive schemes addressed to employees aiming at:

- Supporting the goals of the organization by aligning employee goals with them;
- Motivating employees to increase individual / Unit performance;
- Improving retention; and
- Emphasizing the importance of teamwork in achieving Group goals.

It should be noted that incentive schemes parameters ensure that employees are not rewarded in a way that constitutes a conflict to the Bank’s Policy to protect its customers. More specifically, employees are not provided with incentives that would encourage them to propose to customers specific financial instruments instead of other instruments that would best serve the customers’ needs.

The Incentive Schemes’ payouts are directly linked to the Business Units’ profitability results (for example lending balances and profitability, liquidity, portfolio quality) or NPE’s reduction as well as operating expenses’ containment cascading down to the individuals’ targets and in line with the Bank’s principles on variable remuneration as stated in this document.

6.4.3 Retention Schemes

The Bank may provide retention schemes to retain employees.

The retention amount complies with the general principles on variable remuneration, including the ex post risk alignment, payment in instruments, deferral, retention, malus and clawback. Retention amounts are not based on performance, but on other conditions (i.e. the circumstance that the employee stays in the Bank for a predetermined period of time or until a certain event), therefore ex ante risk adjustments are not necessary.

The retention amount is not awarded to merely compensate for performance-related remuneration that is not paid due to insufficient performance or the Bank's financial situation.

The Bank sets the retention period as a specific period of time or by defining an event when the retention condition is met, after which the retention amount is awarded.

The retention amount is taken into account within the calculation of the ratio between the variable and the fixed remuneration as variable remuneration (as described in Section "Ratio Between Fixed and Variable Remuneration"). The retention amount is taken into account either with an annual amount in each year of the retention period which is calculated on a linear pro rata basis independent of the fact that the full amount is awarded after the end of the retention period, or with the full amount when the retention condition is met. Where the exact length of the retention period is not known upfront, the Bank sets and duly documents a period considering the situation and measures taken that justify the payment of a retention amount. The calculation of the ratio is based on the period set.

For awarded instruments (as described under paragraph 7.1) a retention period of at least one year is set. Longer periods are set in particular where ex post risk adjustments mainly rely on changes of the value of instruments which have been awarded. Where the deferral period is at least five years, a retention period for the deferred part of at least six months may be imposed for employees other than members of the BoD and senior management for whom a minimum retention period of one year should be applied.

6.4.4 Discretionary Pension Benefits

As a rule, discretionary pension benefits are not granted and in any case if they may be provided they should constitute a form of variable remuneration.

The Bank ensures that where an employee leaves the Bank or retires discretionary pension benefits are not paid without the consideration of the economic situation of the Bank or risks that have been taken by the employee which can affect the Bank in the long term.

As far as the identified employees are concerned the full amount of discretionary pension benefits is awarded as follows:

- when an identified employee leaves the Bank before retirement, the Bank holds the full amount of any discretionary pension benefits in instruments at least for a period of five years without the application of pro rata vesting;
- when an identified employee reaches retirement, a five-year retention period is applied to the full amount paid in instruments.

The Bank ensures that malus and clawback arrangements are applied in the same way to discretionary pension benefits as to other elements of variable remuneration.

7. Variable Remuneration for “Identified Employees”

For identified employees additional requirements to their variable remuneration awarded are applied according to L. 4261/2014 which has incorporated the Directive 2013/36/EU.

7.1 Deferral, Retention and Method of Payment Requirements

For any variable remuneration over the limit of € 50,000¹ the following deferral requirements apply for Board Members and / or Board Committee Members who are also Bank Employees, the CEO, and the direct reports of the CEO who are also Executive Committee members:

- for variable remuneration between €50,000–€ 149,000 a 40% deferral is applied;
- for variable remuneration between € 150,000–€ 349,000, a 50% deferral is applied; and
- for variable remuneration over € 350,000², a 60% deferral is applied; for the rest of the identified employees:

- for variable remuneration between €50,000–€ 349,000 a 40% deferral is applied; and
- for variable remuneration over € 350,000, a 60% deferral is applied;

The deferral amount is deferred over a period which is not less than three years, with the exception of the Board Members and / or Board Committee Members, the CEO, and the direct reports of the CEO who are also Executive Committee members, for which the deferral period is five years. In addition, the deferral amount vests no faster than on a pro-rata basis and is correctly aligned with the nature of the business, its risks and the activities of the employee in question. The first deferred portion should not vest sooner than 12 months after the start of the deferral period. The deferral period ends when the awarded variable remuneration has vested or where the amount was reduced to zero as malus was applied.

Variable remuneration (deferred and non-deferred) is awarded or vests only if it is sustainable according to the financial situation of the Bank as a whole, and justified on the basis of the performance of the Bank, the business unit and the employee concerned. Without prejudice to the general principles of national contract and labour law, the total variable remuneration shall generally be considerably contracted where subdued or negative financial performance of the Bank occurs, taking into account both current remuneration and reductions in payouts of amounts previously earned, including through malus or clawback arrangements.

As a result, at least 50% of the variable remuneration awarded should consist of a balance of the following:

- shares or equivalent ownership interests;
- where possible, other instruments within the meaning of Article 52 or 63 of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013 or other instruments which can be fully converted to Common Equity Tier 1 instruments or written down, that in each case adequately reflect the credit quality of the Bank as

¹ Any variable remuneration awarded that does not exceed the gross amount of €50,000 is awarded in cash and is not subject to retention and deferral policies.

² An amount of € 350,000 and above is deemed to be variable remuneration of a “particularly high amount”.

a going concern and are appropriate to be used for the purposes of variable remuneration in accordance to the relevant clauses of Regulation (EU) No 527/2014; and

- variable remuneration should not be paid through vehicles or methods that facilitate the non-compliance with L. 4261/2014 or Regulation (EU) No 575/2013.

Moreover, if an identified employee receives incentive amounts from more than one scheme:

- In cases where the schemes are based on the achievement of differing goals and targets, the ceiling of €50,000, applies on the cumulative amount, above which there will be a deferred element.
- In cases where the incentive schemes are based on the achievement of the same goals and targets, the €50,000 ceiling applies to the cumulative amount.

Identified employees are required not to use personal hedging strategies or remuneration and liability-related insurance to undermine the risk alignment effects embedded in their remuneration arrangements.

7.2 Ratio Between Fixed and Variable Remuneration

Provided that variable remuneration is awarded to employees, the following rules should apply:

- The variable component cannot exceed 50% of the fixed component of the total remuneration.
- The Bank's Annual General Meeting may approve a higher maximum level of the ratio between the fixed and variable components of remuneration provided the overall level of the variable component shall not exceed 100 % of the fixed component of the total remuneration for each individual and according to the process described as per CBC Directive. Any approval under the clauses of a higher ratio of 50 % shall be carried out in accordance with the specific procedure of CBC Directive (par. 51).
- The effective ratio is calculated as the sum of all variable components of remuneration that have been awarded for the last performance year as set out in this Remuneration Policy, including amounts awarded for multi-year accrual periods, divided by the sum of fixed elements of remuneration awarded for the same performance year. For multiyear accrual periods that do not revolve annually, the Bank alternatively takes into account in each year of the performance period the maximum amount of variable remuneration that is awarded at the end of the performance period divided by the number of years of the performance period.
- The ratio between the variable and fixed remuneration components is set independent of any potential future ex post risk adjustments or fluctuation in the price of instruments.

7.3 Malus and Clawback Arrangements

For variable remuneration awarded to identified employees the risk alignment process comprised from the following elements:

- The Bank is able to apply malus or clawback arrangements up to 100% of the total variable remuneration in accordance with Article 94 (n) of EU Directive 2013/36/ EE regardless of the method used for the payment, including deferral or retention arrangements.
- When setting criteria for the application of malus and clawback in accordance with Article 94 (n) of EU Directive 2013/36/ EE, and a period during which malus or clawback will be applied is also set. This period at least covers deferral and retention periods.
- The criteria used to apply malus and clawback arrangements as set out in Article 94 (n) of EU Directive 2013/36/ EE are the following:
 - evidence of misconduct or serious error by the employee (e.g. breach of code of conduct and other internal rules, especially concerning risks);
 - whether the Bank and/or the business unit subsequently suffers a significant downturn in its financial performance (e.g. specific business indicators);
 - whether the Bank and/or the business unit in which the employee works suffers a significant failure of risk management;
 - significant increases in the Bank's or business unit's economic or regulatory capital base;
 - any regulatory sanctions where the conduct of the employees contributed to the sanction.
- Where malus can only be applied at the moment of vesting of the deferred payment, clawback on variable remuneration may be applied without prejudice to the general principles of national contract or labour law
- Malus and clawback arrangements lead to a reduction of the variable remuneration where appropriate. Under no circumstances should an explicit ex post risk adjustment lead to an increase of the initially awarded variable remuneration or, where malus or clawback was already applied in the past, to an increase of the reduced variable remuneration.

8. Benefits

The Bank may offer various benefits to its employees and their families in line with the approved Benefit's Policy. The Benefits' Policy (types of benefits, coverage, etc.) is approved by the Remuneration Committee following proposal by the Human Resources Division.

9. Remuneration Approval Process
